Bush Concert and Fossils – what a combo!

Thursday last week was a very busy and interesting day for the Infants class. In the morning we were very fortunate to join in a live youtube stream performance of the 'Bush Concert' by the Sydney Symphony Orchestra in conjunction with Dart Connection. In the afternoon, Cassandra Trengrove, Xander's mother, visited our classroom to give us a talk on Fossils and show us her impressive private collection. The children were enthralled with the facts and information that Cassandra shared with us. Who knew dinosaurs are closely related to birds? I certainly didn't. Thank you so much Cassandra for giving each child a snail fossil and topping off a great day for the Infants class!
